Item V: Counselor's Spotlight: Family meals can lead to school success

Busy schedules can make it hard to find the time for family meals. However, studies show that kids who eat meals regularly with their families earn better grades. They are more likely to talk with parents and are less likely to use drugs and alcohol. This school year, strive to eat dinner as a family at least once a week. Use these Tips for Family Meals to get the most out of family meal time: 1.) Ask for help. Get your child involved in planning and preparing the meal. 2.) Turn off the TV and keep cell phones off the table. 3.) Talk about everyone's day. Ask each family member to share something that happened that day. 4.) Keep the conversation positive. Don't use this time to lecture your child about something. Make family meals and dinnertime conversations something the family looks forward to!
